Fourth of July Committee.

Pursuant to a call by the Committee on Fourth of July Celebration there was quite a large and enthusiastic gathering of citizens at the Town Council rooms Tuesday evening. The meeting was called to order by Harry White, chairman, who in a few brief remarks stated the object of the meeting, which was to get as large a number interested as possible. Looking into the faces of those gathered about him he prognosticated success to the movement for a larger, more interesting and successful celebration than that of last year, which was gotten up in the hurry of the moment.

Chairmen of the various committees had been appointed and they briefly outlined the programme of events for July 4th, providing that the finance committee provided the means of war. Everything looks very promising, as the various committees are now getting down to hard work.

Committees have been formed as follows: Finance, Jesse C. Green, chairman; oratory, hall and decorations, Fred M. Davis, chairman; parade, Samuel G. Hayter, chairman; sports and grounds, Hugh D. King, chairman; fireworks, Matthew McCordan, chairman; printing, H. L. Osborne, chairman.

There will be some new features introduced in the parade and all along the lines there will be additions made for the pleasure of the people. This is to be a celebration by the people and all will be asked in some way to help. There will be a meeting of the General Committee in the Town Council rooms next Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

May Concert.

A May concert was the title of a fine musical entertainment given in the Watering M. E. Church Thursday night by a choir of forty-five voices, and an orchestra of twenty-four instruments. The assistant soloists and accompanists were Mrs. Robert G. Macan, soprano; Miss Irma C. Selbert, harp; Mrs. Jackson, piano; Charles E. Eiler, organ.

The choral work was directed by Arthur A. Eiler, choirmaster in the Watering Church and the orchestral work by E. Walter Morris. The following programme was presented:

March, "Tannhauser," Wagner.
Part Songs, (a) Vikings and the North Wind, Tourne.
(b) Swedish Folk Song, Chorus.
Harp Solo, Autumn, John Thomas.
Soprano Solo, Miss Irma C. Selbert.
Soprano Solo, May Morning, L. Deane.
Nocturne, Mrs. Robert G. Macan.
Waltz, Village Song, Fred Strauss.
Selection, See the Conquering Hero Comes, Handel.
Chorus and Orchestra.
Selection, Funeral March of a Marionette, Gounod.
Part Song, Chorus.
Harp Solo, The Butterfly, Zabel.
Selection, Andante, Schumann.
Cantata, Mrs. Macan, Chorus and Orchestra.

All the numbers of the excellent programme were pleasingly rendered and were well received by a large audience. Miss Selbert was an accompanist with appearance, well as accompanist, very sweet harp music. Miss Macan's soprano solo "May Morning" was well appreciated, and she responded to an encore.

The chorus was heard to best advantage as to strength in the selection from Handel, and for sweetness in the selection from Parker. The chorus work in Gounod's cantata "Gallia," was well sustained. The orchestra's best work was in the Gounod and Beethoven selections. Those who took part were: Choir—Soprano—Mrs. Henry Abinson, Miss Mary Conover, Mrs. S. B. Down, Miss Jessie Down, Mrs. Charles Down, Mrs. Herbert Edgerley, Mrs. R. T. Edwards, Mrs. A. A. Eiler, Miss Edith Eiler, Miss Edith Goring, Miss John Gibbins, Miss Edna Knapp, Miss E. Law, Mrs. J. A. Law, Mrs. J. Pierce, Miss Ruth Weden, Miss Elizabeth Deane.
Alto—Miss Florence Allen, Miss Clara Eiler, Miss Edith Eiler, Miss Minnie Johnson, Miss Pauline Klobner, Mrs. J. V. Smith, Miss Edith Thompson, Miss May Weden.
Tenor—Harry Thompson, Edwin Cook, Irving Dorr, Irving Eiler, Walter Eiler, William Eiler, G. L. Jones, Willard Miller.
Bass—R. T. Edwards, Arthur W. Eiler, Wilford Eiler, James E. Eiler, Charles Jensen, T. Griffith Jones, Ernest E. Law, A. A. Law, James Lee, George Oakes, Frank Zeller.
Orchestra—Violin—C. R. Aue, John Coffman, Howard Haeberle, John Harrison, Benjamin Charles, Elliott Marshall, E. W. Smith.

Hudson vs. Essex.

Following the course of all the leaders great and small in the party of the "new idea," George L. Record of Hudson county is out for an office. Mr. Record is high up in the inner-most circle of the party of the "new idea," and consequently strikes for a high office, namely, that of United States Senator.

In an open letter to the public Mr. Record cites many reasons that in his opinion demand the transfer of senatorial honors from Essex county to Hudson county. One reason why Essex county should be deprived of the senatorship is because Senator Dryden is the choice of the Republican organization. Mr. Record calls it "machine."

Another reason why Essex county should not have the senatorship is: Mr. Dryden is president of the Prudential Insurance Company, and has an influence in sundry great banks and trust companies. That is a demagogic reason, and savors of the anarchistic sentiment that is always studying to array poor against rich, vice against virtue, poverty against progress, crime and licentiousness against law and order, passion against reason and judgment. A large part of Mr. Record's letter is devoted to the creation of a prejudice among poor people against the Essex man, and another large part of the letter is designed to engender a hostile feeling against the Republican party organization in this State. Yet in the face of the most serious charges against the Republican organization, Mr. Record says: "I have decided to become a Republican candidate for United States Senator." Further on he makes a distinction between himself and regular party Republicans, and says "I shall be a Roosevelt Republican."

"Various considerations," Mr. Record says, "have moved him to enter the field. The principal offices which are the key to the machine strength of this State are the Governorship and the United States Senatorships. These offices control a vast amount of patronage, the possession of which is absolutely essential to the machine. The United States Senators practically select all the Federal employees in the State. These offices are bestowed in accordance with the demands of the local bosses in each county, and are thus used to strengthen the whole machine."

Mr. Record and his colleagues in the party of the "new idea" are at present strenuously engaged in perfecting an organization that is intended to be a more perfect model of a machine than the existing Republican organization. Organization is going on everywhere throughout the State; in the interest of the party of the "new idea," and the men who are doing the organizing from Mr. Record down are moved by "various considerations" to announce themselves as candidates for office. Is the senatorial prize to be a fight between rival machines for control of patronage? Mr. Record clearly points out the plan tree to his followers and the inference is that the plums are theirs if they win the fight.

Mr. Record's letter announcing his candidacy, if carefully considered, will show no valid reason for a transfer of the honor of United States Senatorship from Essex to Hudson county.

Fire at the Centre.

The firemen had a half hour's hard struggle with a fire in Miss Corby's building at the corner of Glenwood Avenue and Washington street on Thursday night. An alarm from box 36 was rung about a quarter after nine o'clock. The fire was on the roof of the building on the side adjoining Central Hall. How it originated is unknown. The first floor of the building is undergoing alterations subsequent to its occupancy by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company. William Habbe and his family occupied the second floor, and his household goods were badly damaged by water. The damage to the building was confined principally to the roof, which is an old one, and of highly inflammable material. The fire attracted an immense concourse of spectators.

Active Hose Company No. 2 was the first to reach the scene of the fire, and quickly put a stream on the building.

The annual reunion of the 25th Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers, will be held at Achel Stetter's, No. 840 Broad street, Newark, on Tuesday afternoon, June 5th, at 1:30 o'clock. Company F of this regiment was recruited here in Bloomfield and the only living officer of that company is Lieutenant Francis Dannhecher.

Hurt in Newark.

In walking from the curb to a trolley car at Broad and Market streets, Newark, Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. John Myers of Linden avenue made a misstep and wrenched her ankle so badly that one of the small bones near the left ankle was fractured. She was assisted into the vehicle by a friend and brought home, where her injuries were attended to by Dr. William H. White, who ordered her removal to Mountsinai Hospital, Montclair.

Base-Ball.

The Watering base-ball team lost by a narrow margin to O. N. T.'s nine Saturday afternoon by the score of 7 to 5. Durning had good control of the ball and had numerous strikeouts to his credit.

The Watering will play the Orenco this afternoon on the Arlington avenue grounds.

On Decoration Day the Watering Base-ball Club will play the O. N. T. Club on the Arlington avenue grounds.

Kronold-Campbell Recital.

The announcement of the first recital given by Hans Kronold, the great cellist of New York, and Robert Craig Campbell, the well-known tenor, has created an unusual interest in musical circles in this town and surrounding places, and these two artists promise a programme of great beauty and musical interest. The numbers which Mr. Kronold will play and the songs Mr. Campbell will sing cannot fail to stir the heart strings of every listener.

The ballad singing of Mr. Campbell is owned by the best critics to be par excellence. He has the quality of voice and temperament most suitably adapted to this style of work, and his interpretation of the master songs as well as the grand opera arias is highly artistic.

As to Hans Kronold, he is such a master of his instrument and such a recognized musician, that he has won his way into the hearts of the musical world in an unequalled way. The critics are unanimous in their praise of his wonderful tone and marvellous technique. Such high-priced artists of acknowledged reputation should receive a hearty welcome from all music lovers, students and devotees to the refined art.

Klopers Arrested.

Upon notification from Chief of Police Collins Dante Matucci, the Italian barber of the Silver Lake section of Belleville, and Mrs. Francis De Angella, wife of Nicholas De Angella of Edison street, this town, who eloped last week, were arrested Monday night in a furnished room at 220 Main street, Orange, by Detective Drabell, Roundman Brown and Policeman Cronan, and brought to the Orange Police Station. Later the pair were taken in charge by Policeman Baylis of this town and Drabell.

Matucci was sent to jail in default of $300 bail to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of larceny preferred by De Angella, who alleged that the barber stole a diamond ring valued at $50. The girl was detained as a witness. Mrs. Matucci-De Angella declared that nothing was her engagement jewel and that she and Matucci had pawned it because their funds were exhausted. She said further that she had not taken any property or money belonging to De Angella and declared that she would never go back to live with him, stating that he had treated her cruelly.

The girl added that she had married De Angella against the knowledge of her parents when she was fourteen years old. She said she lived in Newark and that her name was Frances Lombardo, and she was a daughter of Joseph Lombardo.

"The Widow's Mite" will be the subject of Rev. S. Travena Jackson's morning sermon in the Watering Methodist Church to-morrow. In the evening Mr. Jackson will preach to the firemen, and his subject will be "Our Daily Heroes."

The Bloomfield Young People's Church League held a very successful prayer meeting, conference and social in the German Presbyterian Church Thursday evening. The eight societies composing the league were all represented, and formed a total of about 125 persons. Our town's new pastor, Rev. Dr. J. L. Kurbit, gave a very interesting address on "Love," and the young people already feel that they have a very strong friend in Dr. Kurbit. Then followed the conference on "How to keep up the interest in the work of the societies during the summer." Various ways were discussed, including open-air meetings, keeping in touch with members who were on their vacations by means of picture postals, etc. More will be known about the open-air meetings after the meeting of the executive committee of the league at 55 Park avenue next Thursday. Miss F. Bell explained the Essex County Fresh Air work, which was also very interesting. The social was enjoyed by all. The league is planning to attend in a body the June meeting of the Essex County Christian Endeavor Union, which will be addressed by Amos R. Wells of Boston, and will be held in the Park Presbyterian Church, Newark, on June 4.
